President's Message

You can always tell the strong women. We are #oneaawd.

AAWD had a very challenging year. Our former management company resigned the organization earlier this year. We were given a framework of operations and systems but no detailed roadmap for the association.

I am here to say we survived. We kept our AAWD moving forward and fiscally sound. We have hired a new Executive Director, Donna Deans and we are looking forward to a bright future!

I have several people personally to thank for their dedication and determination to make AAWD financially successful this year. Dr. Lilia Larin and Dr. Judi Belitz, two past presidents who served again in this very difficult year, who went above and beyond for our AAWD. Lilia managed our finances and gave us a clear understanding of balance sheets with an understandable format. Judi created the Chronicle and learned more about pixels and VoIP than she ever imagined. Dr. Griselle Ortiz's primary mission was to make sure we were fiscally stable. Griselle was instrumental in researching our finances. In addition, she took over our website and managed our membership data. Dr. Karyl Patten served as secretary and parliamentarian as no other before her. She had to transcribe the often long meeting notes by hand. The countless volunteer hours these women have spent dedicated to our AAWD are too many to numerate. I thank them for their dedication and friendship. Our AAWD would not have survived without these women.

I would also like to thank our search committee, led by Dr. Lilia Larin. A nationwide search was conducted for our new executive director. Over twenty seven management companies were interested in working with AAWD. Many hours of research and due diligence went into deciding on the finalist. We are so pleased with Donna Deans, who offers us a wealth of knowledge and experience to move AAWD forward.

Other women also worked to help our AAWD succeed and thrive. Dr. Pia Chatterjee Kirk worked with member benefits to ensure awards and scholarships were timely and accurate. Dr. Brittany Bergeron came up with creative solutions for membership. We worked together to secure a great future!

I have met many leaders of dentistry and industry this year. I have been honored to serve this organization alongside many of the leaders of our profession, such as Dr. Maxine Feinberg, President of the ADA and Dr. Carol Summerhays, President Elect of the ADA and Dr. Kathleen O'Loughlin, Executive Director of the ADA, all AAWD members. #womendentists.

I thank you for the honor of serving this great, history rich organization. I had dedicated over ten years promoting AAWD to industry. This year, I personally visited several of our corporate partners to affirm their knowledge of women in dentistry. #newnormindentistry

I have had many wonderful mentors, some of whom are not with us anymore, such as Dr. Fae Alhstrom and Dr. Jane Selbe. These visionary women always discussed with me about not only seeking leadership but helping other women move up and aspire to be leaders. Dr. Judi Belitz has been an exceptional mentor, friend and confidante. She helped me lead with transparency and integrity.

Finally, I would like to thank Dr. Jean Furuyama for her encouragement, friendship and mentorship. She has been a good sounding board, diplomat and a wise historian. I may not have always followed every suggestion, but I did listen. The discussion on the golf course, about bringing our meeting to the same time as the ADA turned out to be a professional and financial success. Thank you, Jean.

We have come a long way this year. We are here, advancing women in dentistry. I would like to say the future is bright for AAWD. We have a positive fund balance, transparent finances and a new director. #movingforward

We still have many things to do. To make the founders of AAWD proud and to grow our organization, we need to all work together towards our centennial anniversary and beyond. We are women professionals, balancing our chosen career with the other important facets of our lives. We need to be pitch perfect. #oneaawd

Some final thoughts: I know this isn't our grandmother's AAWD. With dental schools graduating classes of fifty percent women, our numbers are increasing. We are not a minority in a male driven profession anymore. AAWD was founded because women dentists needed a group that understood their personal and professional balance issues. We have all been "through it" in one way or another. If you have a chance to mentor a woman dentist, it will be one of our greatest mitzvah's. #payitforward

Thank you again. It has truly been an experience I will never forget.

It's not just about fixing

Smiles for Success

The Smiles for Success program offers cost-free dental care for women graduates of accredited job readiness and placement programs, thus helping those who are helping themselves. The dental care offered is meant to be a short-term solution for those who need treatment as they move from public assistance to the working world. A beautiful smile is truly an asset when interviewing for a job. Many women are self-conscious and embarrassed as they attempt to hide decayed, missing and damaged teeth on job interviews.

Smiles for Success provides an opportunity for the dental community to effectively assist women in reaching their goal to obtain employment by giving them a competitive edge in the job market by enhancing their appearance and self-esteem.

Volunteer dentists around the country participate by helping to restore oral health and a confident smile.

Smiles for Success

The University of Maryland AAWD Student Chapter has been busy treating patients in our Smiles for Success program. The University of Maryland School of Dentistry was the first dental school to host a student-based program for Smiles for Success. It was founded in 2009 by students Sarah Raymond, DDS '10, Sara Kramer, DDS '10, and Dorie Drank, DDS '10 with the help of Dr. Mary Beth Aichelmann-Reidy, DDS. Since 2009, third and fourth year dental students have provided therapy to over thirty women who were then able to obtain jobs with their new sense of confidence.

Ms. Sylvia Franklin was suffering from domestic violence and drug abuse when she started the program at Marian House, an organization in Baltimore, MD that offers rehabilitative services and housing to empower women. Ms. Franklin came to the dental school embarrassed about her smile and in dental pain. At her last appointment, Ms. Franklin couldn't stop smiling. While getting treatment at the dental school, Ms. Franklin completed the program at the Marian House and started volunteering to help other women going through similar situations. She also moved into her own apartment and also began working at an assisted living facility.

Mrs. Debra Scott was referred to the Smiles for Success program from My Sister's Place, a center that provides meals, case management, education and job training to women in Baltimore, MD. Mrs. Scott had several health problems including being diagnosed with breast cancer in 2006 that impacted her oral health and ability to maintain a job. Thanks to the treatment provided at the dental school, Mrs. Scott now has a healthy and beautiful smile. She is currently taking classes in nursing and Spanish at a local college.

Ms. Charlyne Spring was also a member of My Sister's Place who was recommended by her case worker to receive dental care to make her more employable. Ms. Spring was so grateful for her student providers and now works in housekeeping at a local hotel in Baltimore, MD.

Ms. Detra Williams has two sons and was having difficulty providing for them and paying for their education. During her treatment at the dental school, Ms. Williams enrolled in a master's program for social work and was applying for jobs. She is so thankful for having her smile restored so she could feel confident during interviews.

SPECIAL OFFER

for AAWD members

To order: 1-888-periochip (737-4624) | For more information: 1-866-periochip (737-4624) | www.periochip.com

WHY PERIOCHIP[®] [chlorhexidine gluconate] 2.5 mg ?

We appreciate your consideration of PerioChip[®].

There are numerous reasons why PerioChip[®] is experiencing rapid and sustained utilization in dental practices throughout the United States:

- PerioChip[®] is a non-antibiotic chip, and is the only locally delivered antiseptic indicated as an adjunct to scaling and root planing (SRP) procedures for the reduction of pocket depths in patients with adult periodontitis.
- PerioChip[®] may be used as a part of a periodontal maintenance program, which includes good oral hygiene and periodic SRP.
- It typically takes just one minute to insert PerioChip[®] following SRP.
- With our Volume Pricing Program, PerioChip[®] may be economical to both the practice and patient.
- In two U.S. multi-centered studies, it has been shown that patients treated with PerioChip[®] after SRP experienced statistically significant reductions in pocket depth vs. those who were treated with SRP alone, at 9 months after initial treatment (p=0.006, p=0.001).
- Approximately twice as many patients treated with PerioChip[®] + SRP vs. SRP alone, showed a significant reduction of ≥ 2 mm in pocket depth at 9 months (p<0.005).
- Treatment may be administered once every 3 months in pockets with pocket depth remaining 5 mm or greater.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION AND INDICATION

Contraindications

PerioChip[®] [chlorhexidine gluconate] 2.5mg should not be used in a patient who has a known sensitivity to chlorhexidine.

Warnings

Anaphylaxis, as well as serious allergic reactions, have been reported during postmarketing use with dental products containing chlorhexidine.

Patients should be advised to report any signs of local adverse reactions to their dentists. Patients who develop allergic symptoms such as skin rash, itch, generalized swelling, breathing difficulties, light headedness, rapid heart rate, upset stomach or diarrhea, should seek medical attention immediately.

Precautions

The use of PerioChip[®] in an actually abscessed periodontal pocket has not been studied and therefore is not recommended. Although rare, infectious events including abscesses and cellulitis, which have been reported after scaling and root planing (SRP) alone, have also been reported with the adjunctive placement of the PerioChip[®] post SRP. Management of patients with periodontal disease should include consideration of potential contributing medical disorders, such as cancer, diabetes, and immunocompromised status.

• Information for Patients

Patients should be advised that, although some mild to moderate sensitivity is normal during the first week after placement of PerioChip[®], they should notify the dentist promptly if pain, swelling, or other problems occur.

Most oral sensitivity or pain occurred within the first week of initial chip placement following SRP alone, was mild-to-moderate in nature, and spontaneously resolved within days. These reactions were observed less frequently with subsequent chip placement at 3 and 6 months.

Patients should avoid dental floss at the site of the PerioChip[®] insertion for 10 days after placement, because flossing might dislodge the chip. All other oral hygiene may be continued as usual. No restrictions regarding dietary habits are needed. Dislodging of the PerioChip[®] is uncommon; however, patients should be instructed to notify the dentist promptly if the PerioChip[®] dislodges.

In the unlikely event of PerioChip[®] dislodgement (in the two pivotal clinical trials, only 8 chips were reported lost), several actions are recommended, depending on the day of PerioChip[®] loss.

If dislodgement occurs 7 days or more after placement, the dentist should consider the subject to have received a full course of treatment. If dislodgement occurs within 48 hours after placement, a new PerioChip[®] should be inserted. If dislodgement occurs more than 48 hours after placement, the dentist should not replace the PerioChip[®], but reevaluate the patient at 3 months and insert a new PerioChip[®] if the pocket depth has not been reduced to less than 5 mm.

• Pregnancy

Pregnancy - Category C. PerioChip[®] should be used in a pregnant woman only if clearly needed.

• Pediatric Use

The safety and effectiveness of PerioChip[®] in pediatric patients have not been established.

• Geriatric Use

Although subjects aged 65 years and over were included in clinical studies of PerioChip[®], there were not sufficient numbers of these subjects to determine whether they respond differently from younger subjects. Other reported clinical experience has not identified differences in responses between the elderly and younger patients. Overall differences in safety or effectiveness have not been identified between the elderly and younger patients.

Adverse Reactions

The most frequently observed adverse events in the two pivotal clinical trials, that compared the effects of SRP, and SRP followed by PerioChip[®] treatment, were toothache, upper respiratory tract infection and headache. Toothache was the only adverse reaction that was significantly higher (p=0.042) in the PerioChip[®] group (%50.7) when compared to placebo (%41.4).

The above information is based on the U.S. Prescribing Information for the PerioChip[®] product.

On August 20, 2015 the University of Louisville School of Dentistry Chapter of AAWD celebrated the initiation of their D1s with a Wine and Cheese Initiation. On this evening, Dr. Sam Shaver gave a motivating speech about navigating life after dental school and had excellent advice to share with members about the nuances of managing a practice. As always, it was wonderful to have Dr. Baughman, our faculty sponsor, join us and share her advice!

In October, the Chapter helped to promote Breast Cancer Awareness Month in several ways. We "Painted the Clinic Pink" by providing pink clinic gowns, pink gloves, and pink masks to all students. Additionally, the Chapter worked to raise money for the Breast Cancer Research Foundation. A few of the fundraising events included the sale of Breast Cancer Ribbon Bagels and of "Dress-Down" stickers to students, faculty and staff, also encouraged purchasers to wear pink and promote awareness.

AAWD's Exquisite Heritage

From the Director of Archives
Dr. Mary Licking

The Gillette Hayden Memorial Foundation is AAWD's charitable arm and has education as a mission. The GHMF was the subject of an article in the July 2015 edition of the AAWD Chronicle. On the front page of the September – October 1983, Volume 4, Number 5 edition of the AAWD Chronicle, there was a photograph of the papers being signed, with the caption: Above: The trustees of the new AAWD Charitable Trust signing the official documents for establishment of the fund: Dr. Helyn Luechauer (L), Dr. Jane Selbe (C), and Dr. Faye Ahlstrom (R). That Chronicle does not further describe what those papers were. From the July 2015 article we know that the GHMF was founded well before 1983. It is doubtful that the 1983 picture was about a totally different foundation. Presumably, the 1983 photograph captured bringing the GHMF up to date.

AAWD was founded in 1921 and therefore will be celebrating its 100th anniversary soon on a date to be determined. This article is one in a series that illuminates activities of AAWD over the past 50 years.
